

Paisley Nyberg

Business strategist

My name is Paisley Nyberg, and I am a proud 2014 St. Thomas alumna.

When I reflect on my high school years, I can't help but be grateful. Having come to St. Thomas in Sec. 4 from another school, I was extremely nervous that I wouldn't fit in. Then, on my very first day, my very first class, two girls sat next to me so I wouldn't be alone. Those two girls are still my best friends now!

Honestly, my years at St. Thomas were nothing short of amazing.

Between the friends I made for life, the teachers that guided me and pushed me to succeed, and the school spirit within the student body, it's safe to say that it was the people who made my St. Thomas experience so incredible. I'll never forget the Physics & Chemistry study sessions, the variety shows, the multitude of grad events that made us feel so appreciated, and even sitting in the cafeteria at lunch with a group of friends that made me feel so welcome.

I think my all-time favourite memory, however, was my convocation ceremony. My dad, who was a teacher at St. Thomas, was the one who called out my name and handed me my diploma. It was one of the most special moments for both of us, and I am so thankful that I was able to end such a positive high school experience with such fond memories.

Fast forward a few years; I have a Bachelor of Commerce and an incredible job as a Business Strategist for an award-winning web design agency in Montreal, called Plank. I get to work alongside such talented people and some of the coolest clients you all know - evenko, Osheaga, the band Rush, just to name a few.

Thank you St. Thomas!
