

Dr. Nicholas Nadeau Engineer specialized in robotics

Beurling was a huge part of my high school education and gave me the opportunity to explore everything from track and field to space camp. I was extremely lucky to participate in the Pearson Partnership Program job shadowing program which allowed me to discover different professions that I had not been exposed to. I discovered my current engineering through the job shadowing activities, as well as a special week spent at Space camp in Huntsville, Alabama.

I am especially grateful to my amazing teachers. They inspired hope, ignited my imagination, and instilled a lifelong love of learning!
